The Greatest Show On Earth
By: Zahara X,Tehuti, and Your Higher Self

“You will never have those dreams again, you will never see those colors again, you will never hear those sounds again, so enjoy the experience while you can.”
- Channeled Message

Come one, come all, enter the realm called Ki/Gaia/Earth, explore her wonderful lands, get lost in her warmth, embrace her love. You came here to live, that is all you need to rediscover. You are here for you, to show yourself that you can, and what's surprising is that you already have. Eye know this makes little to no sense, but when you finish this book you'll come back to this intro and see it all. The soul has called you here, to this book, because you match its vibration, you match its energy, and you have the key to open the doors this will show you. This is just proof of your power, you manifested this, you made this, we made this, we made it all. Enjoy this trip, just pick yourself up after the fall 💚🙏🏾💚🙏🏾

Who is I? And why is it “EYE”?

You are three, three are we. The Three Musketeers (or the Stooges if you prefer), the three headed eagle, it's all us. 3, as we know it, is a very divine number, it is new life, new energy, 3 is what occurs when 2 come TWO-GETHER. Remember when 2 come into agreement a spirit is formed, the 3rd. So who is “i”, well… i is you, with a severed head. Capital letters are used and I is always capital, as it shows WHO is being talked about, not what is being talked about. What does capital even mean? Well if you want the true meaning of the word, it is “of or pertaining to the head," from Old French capital, from Latin capitalis "of the head," hence "capital, chief, first," so “i” is LITERALLY YOU being beheaded. Allow this to free you from being in a capital energy, or being in your head. Now you will see me say “eye” when referring to myself a lot, and it's for good reason. Look at the word eye for a while, you see a face, no? The e’s are eyes and the y is the nose, the ancients knew how important symbols were, the power they contain. That's why languages are symbols and why letters are ALSO symbolic, not only for numbers, but for many other things as well. Eye keeps you in the energy of seeing you for who you are, a being in harmony with the physical and the spiritual, not separate or split as the i shows. NOW! A head off the shoulders can signify the soul, or a higher connection to the divine as well, but i only shows you as 2, the head and the body. What about the soul, or spirit, depending on which Ether (Ether 9 or Ether 6) you are composed of? Eye will let you in on a secret, the world is nothing but symbolism, they know this and don't want you to know. You may say, “this doesn't matter” or “you are looking too deep”, which is fair for you to think. All eye am trying to show you is that you feel lone, because you agree you are an i rather than an EYE, you have vision(which is supernatural sight), you're not singled out or lone, you are LOANING a body so you can SEE what life is all about, your own VISION of your life. Haha, this is so fun, eye love this soooo much! Anyway, to get back on track 🙏🏾. To give you a direct answer, I is you at the start of your journey, and you start out capital, as many of us aren't born with immediate spiritual acceptance or knowledge, we start out as a mind (as we all are a mind, MIND-KIND/MAN-KIND), not knowing anything other than what is placed into our mind. Thats why as children we are so free and light, we are creative. Our mind is pure and full of divine pyr (pyr is pure came from fire 💚) which gives us ZERO LIMITATION!!! So wonderful to know that we develop that skill first right? Now, there are 2 main roads this can lead to, it can lead to you becoming a i, or an eye. If you become an i, you know there is more, you know of the divine, but you feel stranded. You are enlightened but separated and uneven, the body and head are going separate ways. Now an eye will see what the i sees as well, but the eye will know how to move with the divine. In other words, if you see things as nonspiritual you are an i, you know the spirit is there but you refuse to allow it into your body, your temple. The eye will see the divine and open the body for it to assist. The I is the ego, and the ego is the mind, as WE create what we see with the mind, we do this by judging and making opinions, by assuming, by just being human. Don't feel bad for doing those things, you're not a horrible person or going to be shunned by your creator, only MAN/MIND could be so cruel. (hope these seeds are making smile and laugh as they make me, its so fun to see) just know that when you judge you are seeing things as physical, not spiritual (this is how you can tell whos in it for real and whos in it to test the waters, again nothing's wrong, it's important to know who you surround yourself with so you know whos thoughts you are thinking👁️💚)

29 And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

Let's break this down to better help you understand what eye mean

Why do they say to get rid of the right eye and hand if you're offended? Why does it say if it's not gone i'll go to hell? Well… the right side of the body is governed by Saturn/Satan, or the physical, and if something offended you its because you left the realm of spirit to go to the physical (lowering your vibration) the right eye is how you see things on the physical, and the right hand is what you TAKE from the physical. Pay your bills with your right hand, give gifts with your left. You all know eye always nail in the point that the LEFT IS SPIRITUAL and RIGHT IS PHYSICAL, and it's not because eye want to be different or seem a certain way, but because it's the truth. Hell is known as the "underworld" and if we break it down, Under - "beneath, among, before, in the presence of, in subjection to, under the rule of, by means of," also, as an adverb, "beneath, below, underneath," World - "human existence, the affairs of life," also "a long period of time," also "the human race, mankind, humanity,". Hell is before life, or in front of existence. Before you live you have to be in hell, you have to be under something to experience it. Under judgment, understanding, you get the drift. When you take action it is done on the physical (with spiritual support or energy and divine permission) but the mind, or man, is what will put you in hell. When you beat yourself up, you are in hell, when you get mad at someone you are in hell, when you do not forgive someone you are in hell, as you will constantly be bothered by the energy until you release it with love. It becomes a sin and can ONLY be a sin, when guilt or an injury is present. Sin means synn, syn "violation of divine law, offense against God; moral wrongdoing," also "injury, mischief; enmity, feud; guilt, crime, misdeed,". Remember we are gods, we create, we control, we are SUPREME BEINGS, as that is what God is. When we judge others we subconsciously judge ourself, some of us consciously judge ourself after/during it too as we have adapted to the new consciousness, that's the power we hold. To see not only the physical but also the spiritual reflection. Eye hope this helps you understand a bit more of what hell is and how to leave, and sometimes how we visit too.

The Circus

There's a funny reason why this book is titled “The Greatest Show On Earth” and maybe it clicked for a few of you. There was a huge circus act eye would see with my parents when eye was a tiny baby, and it was called just that. Eye remember wanting to go every year they came around, eye love the circus (and it's why eye am who eye am today), it taught me from youth the world is crazy! The world is full of different acts, each loved by different people, sharing laughs and joy, sharing emotions of shock and disgust, applauding and crying, cheering and screaming. Its beautiful, eye literally am tearing up as eye write this. Let’s jump into some esotericism real quick so eye can explain a bit better. The main act of the circus are the clowns, when you hear circus you think clown, or maybe a lion/tiger/bear tamer, in which you'd say “what a fool” or “such a dangerous/foolish thing to do” maybe even “a brave act”. When we think of someone being called a fool, we tend to make jokes of them or “clown” them. We are all fools, and fool means "silly, stupid, or ignorant person," from Old French fol "madman, insane person; idiot; rogue; jester," also "blacksmith's bellows," (eye highly encourage you to look up the etymology of words if they strike your interest, it will show you the real energy of the word, it helps break the negative hold they might have on your consciousness 🙏🏾💚) April's Fool is the greening of nature, the maturing of the new, growth. To be foolish is to be young, to be the fool is to be of nature. We are all fools, or clowns on your journey. People take humor in others, its nature, we do things that seem silly or outrageous to others, we have an act we play, as it's in our character. In tarot, the fool is known as a new beginning or a leap of faith, we are ALWAYS in fool energy, as we always do something new, you'll never be in the exact vibration as you were yesterday (unless you are stuck in the mind), so allow yourself the freedom to change every day with that. Clowns remind me to always take a breather, to relax, as for many they bring joy. You can see why so many people make horror movies out of things that bring joy, or of childhood memories, and it's too keep you stuck in fear. That's for another day though, but please do go search on your own to see the proof 👁️.

We all have an act to play out, and act means "a thing done," from Latin actus "a doing; a driving, impulse, a setting in motion; a part in a play," and actum "a thing done" (originally a legal term), both from agere "to set in motion, drive, drive forward," hence "to do, perform," figuratively "incite to action; keep in movement, stir up". It's the script of our life, and it constantly changes with us, it's all part of character development. When you see others as what they are, which is a spirit wanting to shine who it is, we can see the development of that character. Maybe they change their appearance, maybe they talk differently, maybe they just embody a newer energy, regardless of what you see, take note of it spiritually and not physically (yes even if the change is physical, not all of us can learn with just spiritual knowledge). The main reason we need to see things spiritually and not physically is we don't need to change anyone's script, we all have our own lines to read, our own outfit to wear, our own performance to show and our own soliloquy to attend to. When you see that the soul is just figuring out how to work with its script, you'll see less wrong and see how everything is improving at its own pace. Even when you look at your own script, take time to see where you are growing and how you've grown, notice how you even changed the script or your response. You're not just the actor, you are also the director. Most clowns do their own act anyway, or do improv. Remember you can change everything and anything you want, it's not solid, it's energy. Energy is transmutable, just as the script, you can erase the opinions of others and put your own in its place, or you can remove your opinion and place someone else's there, it's all a choice. Who said it would be easy? Who said you would ace the test on the first try? AND WHY DID YOU LISTEN TO THEM????? Though it's very possible, it's also unlikely unless you are super observant and under your own control. Don't let this jumble your brain either, just know that it's all learning and the fact that you have conflicting thoughts shows growth, change is always met with opposition (if you wanna believe that) either from someone else or you, but the funny trick is this. If you never oppose yourself others wouldn't be able to either, this doesn't mean they wont have something to say, but it will prevent their thoughts from becoming yours. That's the true power of self. We are all fools, young, green, and growing, so be a clown and laugh a bit. Have fun, dance, sing, paint, do art, your body is the tool and the world is what needs fixed. Not to say the world is broken, but to say the lack of love you show for the world, in any way you feel relates to you, is what needs work on. When you see it as this, the pressure goes away and the energy flows quickly, you are able to see how pure and perfect life is. It's what your soul tries to show you everyday, it's what eye tell you everyday, it's why you are here. It's not just the world that needs you, it's YOUR WORLD, that needs you.

What Is My Script

Quick answer, what brings you the most joy? What do YOU relate to?

Wanna hear a funny joke about yourself? When you were a child, you knew your script like the back of your hand, that's why you knew you had super powers, you knew what goddesses and gods you take power from, EYE MEAN DID YOU ALSO MAKE POTIONS IN THE SINK AND BATHTUB LOL!!! TADA!!! 🎉🎊 🎊💚 thats who you are! The real you, the true you! You just got lost in the wild world, it’s okay. You loved yourself enough to come back to who you are, despite how it may seem to others, eye am proud of you, and you are proud of you. If you can’t remember the things you did as a child, then you must rediscover them. Maybe your dreams matured as you did, allow yourself to step into it, maybe your childhood is just too tainted to go back to, allow yourself to do what would bring you that joy. Buy that dollhouse, eat a whole carton of ice cream, watch childhood movies, give your inner child that joy, don't think about what others will say, just do you. In middle school, eye used to watch My Little Pony: Friendship Is Magic, eye even had an OC, or original character, based on the show. Eye enjoyed it as it brought me calm, it allowed me to experience the side of me that others would call “girly” or in some cases “gay”. People knew this about me and made fun of me, but eye didn't care, eye made friends who also liked the show and we had fun. My inner child needed what the show was teaching, the power of friends, the power of self, and what love is. Eye grew up lacking those things, or had them replaced by materialistic things, which always bothered me. This healing is important for the body, the trauma of others' judgment is stored in the body. That's why facial expressions rub others the wrong way, the trauma from others is projected onto the depression as a mask, to mask who is truly there. When you think of a goddess or a god, who do you think of? Eye need you to know something about this, something that will fill you with so much love, maybe even surprise, but the reason you think of them, is because they are you. They not only support you, but are giving you their energy. Know that every goddess and gods loves you and are willing to support you, but the ones you come to your mind are the ones you embody. The closer you are to yourself, the more you see them and work with them. That's how eye get so close with Anubis, Thoth, Sekhmet, you know the rest 💚🙏🏾, their love is the same love eye ask for. Just as you ask for types of love (as it is unconditional, we still have a preference that deserves attention), eye do too, and not all love can be given on the physical, sometimes it's done with the spiritual, or the mental, emotional, even energetically. Regardless of how it is needed, there is a goddess and god who will give you that love and support, just as ancestors will do. You can find ancestors the same way, it's all within you. You just have to trust yourself, ONLY you truly know, as others will only pick parts that THEY agree with, which isn't always the full version of you. This is the story of you, not the story of what people think of you. Define yourself, then allow others to see you. It's not up to you to get them to agree or disagree, because humans are stubborn by nature, so be stubborn in the act of love, instead of disagreement. In fact,show so much self love that others feel uncomfortable, not to hurt them but to show them the light. Show them how they can ALSO do as you do, that is OUR POWER. They get to watch your show, your play, your act, so embody it and become a clown. Be the light, be the life, be WHATEVER YOU WANT TO BE there are no rules, other than this single one. The body has its timer, and when it is time for the body to be deactivated, it will. The soul will go on forever, same as the heart and lessons, all you do is choose a new spawning point, the rest is the same. We are reaching the time where people are seeing this. Something eye don't talk about at all is the fact that i've seen, what was called, the Golden Script, or Golden Scrolls. It is an infinite scroll of paper that has everything in life, that has happened, will happen, and is happening. Anything written in the future is in a Silver text, while the past is in a dulled gold, and the present being solid gold. Eye used to tell people that my life was a script that i've read, and eye can project myself to where the scroll is, as well as read it. Eye don't do this much, as it's very draining and eye respect the rules and sacrecy of it. Thats why eye have the views eye have, it's why eye can speak on what eye speak on. The more you love yourself the more access to yourself you can have, and since everything is you, you have more access to everything you desire. When you think about how you can change anything in an instant, just know that you did at that moment. Your script is your life, your story, the words have nothing attached to them, until you act them out, your emotional response is how you are reading your lines, the mental state is how you wear your lines (your outfit, appearance), and your physical response is what gauges the audiences reaction (how it is mirrored back at you).

Trust.

That's all you need to know…

Things To Remember

You don’t have yourself or what you do, you are identifying with others' beliefs about you.

A belief is a thought you keep thinking, so if you are scared ask yourself why you think you're scared.

No one can tell you that you're wrong, only you can. You know YOUR truth, NOT the truth of another. Even though every opinion has truth in it, you don't have to pick it up.

You've made it this far. And that's further than you thought before you got here.

You already have achieved many dreams, they might not be materialistic dreams, but dreams are still coming true.

If you compete with yourself you will always win, so make it a game.

Always smile, even if you have to fake it. Put a pencil in your mouth until you do, it helps more than you think.

You're already experiencing heaven, the comfortability is what makes it feel like hell.

We are closer than you think, that's why we gave you the ability to feel.

It’s okay to take a break, it's okay to postpone, and it's okay to choose a new direction.

Never settle for less, you are worth more, even when you think you are dreaming big, dream bigger, there's always something else you just have to dig deep enough to see it.

The camera is always on, so always show up for yourself, even if you don't see an audience, you have a whole galactic family watching.

You are the abundance.

You can do ANYTHING, NOT EVERYTHING.

You can. You will. You have.

Final words

Thank you, to Tehuti for being here and giving the words and direction for this book, thank you to the higher self for allowing full expression to be made, and thank you for being here reading this. We share this energy, we are and have made our own connection with this book and our souls talked, you might have even seen who eye am, or who eye was when writing this. Regardless of what you experienced, eye hope it was valuable and helpful towards you and your fulfillment journey. Eye know all these “books” are short, but you don't need a lot of words to speak from the soul. My “books” are more of guides to help navigate the soul and the world. Never saying one is right and another is wrong, but giving a new, fresh perspective to how you already see the world. Thats how we wake the inner child. Please read this over and over, let its meaning become deeper with you, make your own experience out of mine, just make sure you enjoy it! Its been a pleasure sharing my energy with you, and eye love you to the moon an back, tenfold and forever, thank you for the support 🙏🏾💚💖🧿🪬👁️⚖️
